Much credit is due this group of business boys and girls for they were at the controls of all our activities for the year. They showed their real ability and sound judgment in a wide choice of assemblies and sound economic planning. They are real leaders.

S is for seniors, mighty are they.
E is for energy they seem to display.
N is for nice they always must be.
I is for indifferent they once tried to be.
O is for oneness, individuals are they.
R is real, their realness outweighs.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Our hearts palpitating with awe, we, 105 rollicking "tiger cubs," were first ushered through the majestic portals of Edmonds high school in the fall of 1932. After a brief examination by the faculty we were placed under the tender care of Miss McConihe and Mr. McGibbon, who bravely attempted to instill into us some of that noble spirit of learning to which our institution is dedicated.

In the fall of 1933, an intelligent group of bright sophomores, no longer "green freshman cubs," we passed into the hands of Mrs. Hallie B. Anderson and Warren Bieber. Under their tutelage, our hidden intellectual qualities became observable; in fact, we had thirteen Torch members.

The next fall Mrs. Grace Bliss and E. T. Parsons accepted the duty of guarding the one hundred survivors. We maintained our high position as Edmonds' leading "social lights" by our presentation of the Junior dance, a peppy assembly, and a play, "Healthy, Wealthy, and Wise."

As seniors, under the guidance of Miss Jones and Mrs. Murphy, the class of 1936 achieved even greater heights than ever before. The ten with highest scholastic standings in the class of 92 are: John Breed, 3.638; Bernard Thomson, 3.607; Reah Kennedy, 3.416; Corinne Price, 3.355; Don Moyer, 3.353; Betty Fox, 3.323; Alfred Flint, 3.321; Paul Carlstedt, 3.272; Maxine Lee, 3.172; Dorothy Crow, 3.138.

Of our activities of the year a highlight was the senior party, very successfully held under the flying colors of huge flags to the enchanting strains of the "Shipmates" and with confetti accompaniment which proved a tangling feature at intermission. Also outstanding was our three-act comedy, "Big Hearted Herbert," which was a "howling" success. The girls creditably showed their ability as cooks by serving a tea in the form of a farewell to the teachers. Then after four years of anticipation came that day so outstanding in a Senior's life, "Skip Day." Despite the usual hazards no casualties were reported and all survived to present themselves faultless for the passing of review.

Freshman Class History

The youngest monkeys of our tribe to be permitted through the gates of the "E. H. S. Jungle" came from far and near. Of these 115 wide-eyed "freshies" 57 entered from the Edmonds Grade School and 39 of that 57 entered the grade school from other schools. Thus they have but 18 "pioneers." The freshman class also includes 49 members from Alderwood and 9 who came from Esperance.

The freshmen have spent their first year in becoming adjusted to their new surroundings and have had little time (we think they were just a little bashful, too) to participate in many of the school's activities. They are fine prospects though, and we are sure that next year they will be taking active parts in every activity and will prove themselves the leaders we believe them to be. Luck to you—Freshmen!

Sophomore Class History

In September, 1934, 111 freshmen were herded into the "cages" of Miss McConihe and Mr. McGibbon. This was their first step forward in the progress of obtaining a high school education. The members of this class did not assist in very many school activities, excepting the freshmen class assembly held March 12.

One year later there were only 88 "cubs" caged in the two rooms of Mrs. Anderson and Mr. Bieber. A great advancement in all school activities was displayed by having active members on the seasonal football and basketball teams. The girls also showed their ability in the basketball sports day that was held here. On May 15 the sophomore class made its debut by holding the annual class party.

Junior Class History

Almost a hundred frightened freshmen came swinging from bus to bus on their way to Edmonds high school in the fall of 1933. Upon arriving they were greeted by Paul McGibbon and Miss Ruth McConihe, and added to the rest of the menagerie. They ended the year with a grand frolic at Silver Lake.

In 1934, they wended their way back from "jungle freedom" to the "big zoo" and were confined in a higher cage by Mrs. Hallie B. Anderson and Warren Bieber. They were found to possess athletic, scholastic and acting ability, for they downed even the seniors in vodvil. The sophomore party was one of the most successful of the season, as was their picnic and skating party at Silver Lake.

In the term of 1935-36 this particular species was again promoted to higher cages, their keepers being Mrs. Grace Bliss and Mr. E. T. Parsons. In the fall they had an exclusive lolly-pop party and their postponed Junior Prom was successfully presented in March with the appropriate St. Patrick's green much in evidence. Their musical and acting abilities were applauded in vodvil, operetta, and junior play. They wound up a hilarious year in the "zoo" with their annual Silver roundup.

ACTIVITIES

ANNUAL STAFF

Inserts: Reah Kennedy; Mr. McGibbon, adviser; Miss Berg, art adviser.

Standing: Bob Lee, Donald Clausen.

Seated: Betty Fox, Naomi Fussell, Mary Evans, Harriett Taylor, Margaret Taylor, Gertrude Reusch.

We take this opportunity of thanking our staff which has supported us in our every move—both big and small. We especially wish to compliment our art editor, Gertrude Reusch on her untiring efforts and we hope that her efforts were not in vain. Each member on this staff has spent much time and effort building a book which we hope will both interest and please you. Miss Berg has helped our artists with her valuable and attractive suggestions; and we look forward to our next Echo more eagerly, knowing we shall have her inspiration and assistance once more. To Mr. McGibbon we have not the words to express our appreciation of his co-operation and support — it is he to whom we are indebted for the success of this book.

GIRLS CLUB

In true Girls' Club spirit this year the practice of introducing all new girls at the meetings was commenced in order to help the newcomers get acquainted and to make them feel more at home.

You ask why the girls were all in middies every Wednesday of each week! Just an old-fashioned custom —"Middy Day."

The strange noises coming from the gymnasium practically every noon were just the echo of the noon dancing lessons which were sponsored for the benefit of the (unfortunate?) ones who, as yet, had not learned the art of stepping on other people's toes.

Of course they just couldn't get along without having "big" and "little sisters" for the girls; were positive their "little sisters" couldn't possibly make the grade without "big sisters." (Maybe they were wrong!)

Again this year the girls showed the true Christmas spirit by filling baskets for families less fortunate than they were.

On March 27 the girls gathered enough courage to escort their boy friends (or someone else's) to the Leap Year Hop. Decorations of blue with silver stars lent a romantic atmosphere which naturally was a big "hop" toward the dance's success.

The girls ended their activities with the main event of the year, the Mother's Day Tea. A very interesting and appropriate program was supplied by members of the Girls' Club, following which, all adjourned to the gymnasium for refreshments and a final get together.

BOYS CLUB

One of the different activities this year was the introduction into the school of a ping pong tournament. Bob Lee and Merle Hyatt were put in charge of the tables. We bet the Boys' Club purse was pretty flat after having to buy all the ping pong balls. We suggested that maybe they should have had a prize for the one who broke the least amount.

A noon dancing class was started in an attempt to teach some of our stag line to be the hit of the party — in ten easy lessons (or maybe more!). The boys were assisted by the able direction of Miss Skram, Miss Noble and Mr. Bieber. Later on they held joint classes with the girls.

The boys also joined with the girls in putting up Christmas baskets and helped to give the unfortunate families a real Christmas.

They had many interesting programs at their meetings. At one, Mr. Lee from Richmond Beach gave a very interesting talk on hobbies and drew some pictures for them.

Second row: George Blough, Jim Chard, Ed Plimpton, president; Albert Scott.
First row: Billy Bentler, Wally Foard, Winston Carlson, George Armstrong, George Miller.

MANAGERS

Where would we have been without our managers? "Stumped" is the answer! We realize that no activity presented by the school could possibly have been the succsss it was without these willing and capable workers behind it. So, roses to you, managers!

DEBATE

For several years our high school has not had a debate team; but this year one was organized under the supervision of Mr. Hatch. We think he did a very good job, too. The subject that our team took was "Whether or Not the Several States Should Enact Legislation Providing for a Complete System of Medical Care." Out of the four debates held they won two and lost two. Not bad, say we!

First row: Aileen Ryan, Mona Boyle, Charlotte Anderson, Kathleen Wamsley, Anna May Mitchell.

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club was a thriving and busy organization this year.

Thirteen may be an unlucky number but it certainly has not proved to be so for these girls. Exactly thirteen girls make up the personnel of this Glee Club. They are:

Sopranos — La Vern Durbin, Gracia Morris, Dorothy Minnish, Charlotte Anderson, Aileen Ryan.

Second Sopranos — Dorothy Greene, Kathleen Wamsley, Muriel Wamsley, Mona Boyle, Arleen Otto.

Altos — Anna May Mitchell, Helen Wilson, Hazel Solemslie.

Under the able instruction of Mr. Hayden Morris the Glee Club has given several performances. It sang several numbers for High School Night which was sponsored by the Methodist Church of Edmonds.

Its next work was with the school operetta, "Jewels of the Desert," in which the Chorus and Glee Club worked together.

The club's next undertaking was an operetta of its own called "Lady Frances" which was given at the Mother's Day Tea.

The winding up of the year's activities was the May Festival in which the Glee Clubs from all over the county met in Everett and put on an evening performance.

Band

The Band started this year with thirty-five members and the knowledge that they had to maintain their reputation gained last year as winners of the Western Washington Music Meet, Class B.

One of the highlights of the year was a trip to the Puyallup Fair, where the Band played an hour concert.

Later in the year the Band played for the Alderwood grade school production, "The H. M. S. Pinafore."

The climax of the year's work came on April 25, at Bremerton. This was the scene of the year's Western Washington Music Meet. The band members were treated to a trip through the Navy Yard.

During the month of May the Band attended the annual Everett Music Festival and the Apple Blossom Festival at Wenatchee.

This ended a year of hard work and lots of fun. Congratulations to Mr. Osborn for his patient fine work!

"Jewels of the Desert"

Snappy songs! Beautiful dances! Thrills! Chills! Romance! All these were taken from "Jewels of the Desert" presented March 20 and 21, under the direction of Mr. Morris, who was assisted by Mr. Hiersch and Mrs. Bliss.

For the first time in the history of E. H. S. a double speaking cast was used, and the experiment was a huge success.

Mr. Goble certainly deserves a bouquet for the beautiful scenery used in this production.

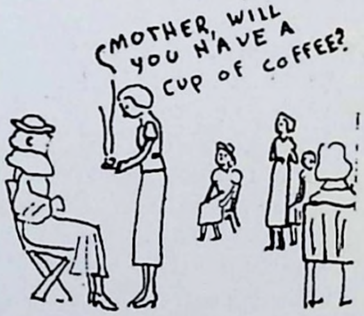
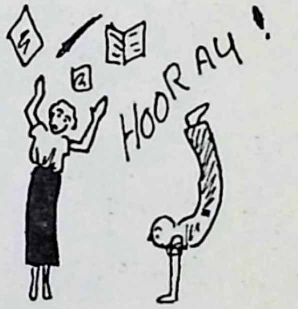
PRINCESS THEATRE—APR.28

MOTHERS' DAY TEA MAY 15



MOTHER, WILL YOU HAVE A CUP OF COFFEE?



LAST DAY OF SCHOOL JUNE 5

As this happy year draws to its close, we may review a very full and extremely interesting school term. We have enjoyed a variety of activities and entertainments, and are much better equipped by our associations than we were a year ago. In our dances, group parties, and initiations we have met on the level of fellowship, and have really made school life more pleasant for each of us and for the collective student body.

Our assemblies and matinees this year have been the result of splendid judgment on the part of the Board of Control and the Assembly Committee, and we certainly can do no less than applaud their leadership in this field of endeavor. Too, we owe much to Mrs. Berry, who has been a splendid ally of the boys and girls of E. H. S. We won't forget your kindness, Mrs. Berry, and we hope to be able, in some measure, to reciprocate.

To write of each of our joys and sorrows would be uninteresting, but it seems that the past year has given us some of our finest and most pleasureable memories — memories that have been fostered by a well-rounded social calendar. To those responsible for our activities — Bravo! We must have a better year if your influence holds sway longer.

VODVIL

What would a jungle be without some colored folk?

The all-school vodvil "Black and White" was presented November 15-16. Let us recall what took place those two evenings.

The high school mixed chorus started the program with "Way Down South." There were six solo dances—and were they good! The "Ghost of the Minstrel Show" was there along with the "Junk Men's Band." The cowboys and girls were there with "A Night on the Range." The lettergirls' "Athletes Foot" walked off with the show, and the faculty quartet admitted they were "Goin' to Heaben Someday." We had the "Black Diamond Minstrels" and "Mr. and Mrs." stepped from the funny page to be with us. The "Juggling Jugglers" kept us busy guessing. The "Sunflowers of the Sunny South" preceded the "Romping Rompers" who tumbled about. A little bit of Harlem rhythm was included in "Top Hat" and to make the evening complete we visited a "Street Scene in Ethiopia."

QUILL AND SCROLL

It was organized January 22 with a charter membership of nine which included Vera Olson, Walter Burfitt, Wilson DeLand, Martha Louise Bliss, Gail McCann, Aldeen Low, Bob Lee, Laurie Duston and Lorraine Wilcox. The membership now also includes Jimmy Stuart, Bertrand Londerville, Bert Armes, Harriett Taylor, Reah Kennedy, Gayle Matzen, Agnes Stadler, Thelma Cressey, Lou Servey and Eva Erlandson.

Laurie Duston was elected president and Vera Olson, secretary. Business meetings were held once a month during class time and social meetings on every fourth Tuesday evening in the month. At the evening meetings initiations were held, followed by informal dances to which a member might invite one guest. For its social meetings the Quill and Scroll had two speakers, Mr. G. F. Hatch and Mr. Harold Turnblad, chief of the Associated Press from Seattle.

They have big plans for next year, among them being a regular all school dance. So roses to you, Quill and Scroll, for being the "peppiest little club" in school this year — and to you, Mrs. Bliss, for your able work as adviser. May you go twice as far next year!

This club includes those who have secured recognition in writing our Wireless, of which Wilson DeLand and Aldeen Low were the very efficient editors for the first and second semesters, respectively.

CHORUS

The chorus consisting of thirty-two boys and girls met in the auditorium every Monday, Wednesday and Friday. At the beginning of the year the officers of the group were chosen: Jane Yost, president; Max Meyring, vice-president; Frances Bigelow, secretary; Fern Astell, librarian; and Karla Kelly and Reah Kennedy, pianists. "BIG-HEARTED HERBERT"

Herbert Kalness is a self-made business man who insists that his family must be brought up in the plain traditions. When his daughter becomes engaged to a Harvard man, and his wife has not only ice cream but Harvard men to dinner, Herbert nearly goes out of his mind with rage. Herbert's home becomes safe for Harvard men only after his family has embarrassed him by embracing his plain traditions. The sight of his wife in an old-fashioned dress and a supper consisting of Irish stew and apple pie destroys this curmudgeon's resistance.

"HALF-WAY HOUSE"

The Junior Play for 1936 is a light mystery comedy. The story is built around a residence situated halfway between an insane asylum and a penitentiary. What happens when a convict meets a lunatic provides the humor.

Anna Pennell is in charge of properties; Agnes Stadler is prompter; and Jean Barrett-Scott is business manager.

The play, written by Alexander McCalmon and William Roos, is coached by Miss Ruth McConihe, and as press time nears, we can predict an enthusiastic reception of "Halfway House."

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

Speedball was started in the fall. The girls played it from the time school started until October 19 when they had their Sports Day. Speedball was the game played at Marysville with girls from 7 schools attending. About 40 girls from Edmonds left in the wee, small hours of the morning to go up on the bus. They had a good showing in the games and celebrated with a stop at the Triple X, and then home.

The following week the girls started playing volleyball. There was a good turnout for it. Edmonds was well represented at Snohomish for the Volleyball Sports Day, December 14. Games and folk dancing were enjoyed after the volleyball playoffs.

Basketball started with a bang after the Christmas vacation. On March 14 the Edmonds gym was filled with girls from 4 schools for the Basketball Sports Day. Entertainment was provided by our tumbling team. A cafeteria style luncheon was served by the cooking class.

Track, baseball, and tennis, the features in the spring, were played until school was out. Track and Baseball Sports Day was held May 16 at Monroe. Edmonds starred in many of the track events.

The tennis team did themselves justice in their matches. Several matches were played with other schools, with the E. H. S. squad winning their share (our returns are incomplete.)

The girls' tumbling team has been very active this year with acts in the Vodvil and several assemblies. Much credit is due their competent coach, Miss Skram.

HONORABLE MENTION

Jack King, Beany Anderson, county doubles champions.

Ray Irby, runner-up for county singles crown. Ray later defeated the champion at the district meet.

Annis Hovde won the county and district high-jump events, and represented E. H. S. at the state meet at Pullman.

The cast of "Big-Hearted Herbert" has been highly praised —"one of the finest ever assembled for a production here."

The dancers in "Jewels of the Desert" were exceptionally entertaining. Headed by Betty Fox, we record them as a huge success.

The art activities of Gertrude Reusch and the art class were inspired by Miss Berg, and she is responsible, therefore, for the increased interest shown.
